

Who Should I Invite?

Hosts are often worried that they won't find enough guests to join them at the Banquet.

First, we want to remind you that convincing guests to attend is God's job, not yours. If you pray and faithfully invite the people to whom He leads you, the guests you end up with will be the right ones, whether it's two or twenty.

Secondly, we would encourage you to think first of people from outside your church when brainstorming about whom to invite. Look at the groups of people below and try to think of 2-3 people from each who might be interested in attending the Banquet and learning more about the ministry of the PMC.
